HSCSD Teacher Receives National Board Certification

KSTF Senior Fellow London Jenks achieved National Board certification in December 2014. National Board certification is an advanced credential developed for and by teachers. In the Feb. 26, 2015 issue of the Thermopolis Independent Record, he talks about this accomplishment.

London teaches science at Hot Springs County High School, which is located in Thermopolis, Wyo.